V. President's Report

Mr. Walcott reported that the library staff is beginning to have an active role in the innovative process of the library, which began with the innovation grants.

Nick Buron, Chief Librarian reported that the W-2 has been mailed to staff and this is the first time in years that W-2’s has been mailed out prior to IRS mailing deadline. He also reported that the Counsel General of Bangladesh recently moved to the Long Island City area and took a site tour of the Central Library today.

Mr. Buron gave a brief overview of the Key Performance Indicator’s Report. He reported that with all library agencies open, the gate count has increased. However, within the next couple of months, Glendale, East Elmhurst, Richmond Hill, and South Jamaica agencies will be closed, due to upcoming renovation projects.

He also reported that newspaper deliveries have been working effortlessly. Prior to implementing the new service, library staff made approximately 19,000 trips per week. This service saves library funding and labor costs.
He announced to the board that after 10 years of service, Denise Corcoran, Director of Community Library Services, has resigned from Queens Library and will be working with the Great Neck Library system.

Marina Concolino, Board Trustee stated that there have been some issues with the information in the library’s printed program schedule. She also inquired about the library’s programs being translated into different languages and/or the use of headphones being used for translation of the programs. Mr. Buron informed the board that Sharon Myrie, VP of Programs and Services, is currently looking at that issue, as well as fit into the goals of the library’s strategic plan.

Lewis Finkelman, Chief Operating Officer and Sr. VP reported that a new dress code policy has been implemented in response to concerns that were raised during the process that led to the execution of a new collective bargaining agreement. The former policy was extremely outdated and the Library made a commitment to collaborate with the union to update the outdated dress code.

Mr. Finkelman reported that the library also worked with the union to change certain custodial staff shifts and eliminate night work crews so as to more efficiently deploy custodial staff in the branches.

He also reported that FES will begin outfitting the newly acquired warehouse by the end of February 2018 and that most of equipment and supplies used by FES will be stored at this facility.

The cafeteria project is scheduled to be completed and operational by early March 2018.

Mr. Finkelman also reported that new multi-functional devices will begin being rolled out to library branches by the end of February 2018 and noted that service plans will be included with these devices.

William Goldband, VP of Information and Technology Department (ITD), reported to the board that as a 5-year goal, 20% of staff computers will be replaced yearly.

Mr. Goldband also reported on the library’s amnesty program. He reported that to date, 146,000 patrons with fines and fees have been waived, with 2,254 materials reported returned to the library. Since December 2018, there were approximately 25,000 customers that returned to sign up for a new library card.

Amy Mugavero, Executive Director, Queens Library Foundation reported that outreach and fundraising for small to midsize donors is going in the right direction. In December, the library received approximately 79% or close to 1,000 donations than previously reported. The foundation also received a bequest of $142,000 from a private donor.

Ms. Mugavero also reported that the Gala committee has reserved the Queens Museum for the upcoming Queens Library 2018 Gala for Tuesday, October 23, 2018 and Tuesday, October 30, 2018. She asked that the board make recommendations for honorees for the upcoming Gala.

Mr. Walcott concluded his report by stating to the board that the library is working on a variety of marketing and press plans to assist in elevating and promoting the Queens Library brand.

It was also reported that the general community is not aware that the Queens Library is not affiliated with the City or State and is one of the largest library systems in the country.
